Friends of the Antlers Library

Who are the friends?

Friends of the Antlers Library is an organization made up of civic-minded men, women, and children. The group consists of a board and a general body of supporters. The Board meets once a month to plan projects. The General Body meets once a year but may be called upon to help with events.

The Friends work to :

Increase awareness of the library's resources and services. Develop support for the library's activities. Raise funds for items outside of the library budget. The group has hosted book sales and bake sales, worked to clean closets and plant flowers, applied for grants, and even dressed up for Summer Reading Program. The main project supported is annual participation in the Oklahoma Virtual Library.
